RECORD TOTAL OF COUNTY VOTERS

George Miller, of San Jose, is "one in a million." He stopped over-night recently in the community and was informed that he could leave his car parked on the street all night and that it would be "o.k."

Next morning, he found that the city cops had placed a "courtesy tag" on the car, and so he's written a letter to the city saying how nice it is that visitors get a courtesy citation instead of "the works."

Mr. Miller is an example of the thousands of other tourist visitors who come to Placerville during the summer season and the more we are able to do to make them feel that they are our guests and that we appreciate their coming to see us, the more often they will come and the better they will feel toward us.

Suppose Mr. Miller's tag had been the real McCoy, and that he'd been fined a couple of dollars in police court! He'd have gone home and spread the word among his friends that he'd been "robbed" and that they should avoid our town.

But he wasn't and he didn't; he's a booster, instead.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Browne, who have been camped at Silver Fork for the past few weeks, were through Placerville Wednesday enroute to Oakland where Ed will assist the Placerville Lions tonight in their "stunt" at the convention of Lions International. Mr. Browne made a special point of the fact that he had a mess of 25 nice trout which he was taking to Piedmont friends. Bet he bought 'em from a barefoot kid.

Charles MacLaughlin was a Tuesday visitor from Somerset.

Warren Benson was in town Wednesday from Summit district.

Emil Pardi tells of catching a three and one-quarter pound German brown on Big Silver on a number twelve gray hackle and finding an eight inch rainbow inside the German brown. Emil says when he squeezed the German brown, the rainbow, which was about half-way down the larger trout's gullet, popped out. Presumably the rainbow was non-Aryan, huh?

Adolph Martin, the weather man, informs us that Tuesday, after he had reported a maximum temperature of 103, the mercury climbed three degrees higher, so that today is the second 106 in a row.

TWO FROM COUNTY ARE AT MONTEREY C. M. T. CAMP

"Having a wonderful time," writes James W. Palmer of this community, who is attending the C. M. T. Camp at the Presidio of Monterey. And, he adds, Ginger Rogers ought to make a picture in this scenic, historic locale for something to write home about."

Other local boys with the Monterey C. M. T. Camp this summer are Marlon F. Holman.

"We don't have much, if any, more money to spend than the hero of Ginger's latest picture," says young Palmer, "and idle time is just about as scarce. But we couldn't have better appetites nor better food to satisfy them if we had come as wealthy tourists to Del Monte Hotel."

"From first call in the morning, which is sounded at 6 o'clock, to retreat at 5 p. m., our days are filled with physical training, close order drill, rifle practice, parades, equestrian and outdoor sports," says young Palmer.

WAR TO BE MARKED

AUGUSTA, Me., (U)—The State of Maine and the Province of Quebec are preparing this year to celebrate the centenary of the "Aroostook War," a bloodless conflict over ownership of 12,027 square miles along northeastern borders in upper St. John Basin.

HENRY H. WARD IS STRICKEN

Georgetown Resident, Veteran In Lumber Company Employee, To Be Buried Thursday

Henry H. Ward, for twenty-five years carpenter foreman for the Michigan-California Lumber Company at Pino Grande, passed away on Tuesday at San Jose where he had gone about three weeks ago for treatment of a sudden illness.

Mr. Ward, father of Frank Ward, of Placerville, and Mrs. Jack Corker, of Camino and Pino Grande, will be laid at rest at Georgetown cemetery at 2 o'clock on Thursday afternoon. The services will be conducted by Memento Lodge No. 37, I. O. O. F., of which he had been a member for fifty-one years, and of which he was a past noble grand.

The family has announced that in response to the wishes of Mr. Ward's family at Pino Grande, the casket will be open at the graveside.

Mr. Ward was born at Dayton, Nevada, November 29, 1862. His parents moved to Georgetown in 1864, the elder Mr. Ward being a blacksmith and he operated a shop at Georgetown for many years.

Upon attaining young manhood, Henry Ward engaged in mining and was employed at the Taylor mine for many years, attaining the post of head timberman at the mine. Later he was superintendent of the Buckley Wells operations, in the Georgetown district, and for the past twenty-five years he had been carpenter foreman for the lumber company at Pino Grande. State Leads In Number Of Cars

Registration For 1937 In All Classes Totals 2,657,233; U. S. Figures Up 5 Per Cent

New distinction for California as premier motoring state of the Union is provided by official figures showing this state leading all others in total motor vehicle registration last year, the California State Automobile Association reported today.

Figures of the Bureau of Public Roads received by motorists organizations show that California last year nosed out New York by rolling up a total registration of 2,657,233. New York staged a "photo finish" for second place with a registration also in the 2,500,000 class. The exact total was not available, but California's lead by a small margin was officially affirmed.

California also showed the greatest numerical gain for the year, with an increase of 156,669 vehicles. The greatest percentage increase was recorded by Arizona, with a jump of 12.3 per cent.

The total registration for California consisted of 2,319,341 automobiles; 164,132 trucks; 132,927 trailers; 11,240 motorcycles; and 29,593 exempt vehicle registrations.

Total motor vehicle registration for the United States set a new all time high in 1937 aggregating 29,705,220, of which 25,449,924 were passenger automobiles and 4,255,296 were trucks. The total represented a gain of 5.5 per cent over the 1936 registration of 28,165,550 motor vehicles.

Every state in the union showed an increase in registration, with the exceptions of Nebraska and South Dakota, both of which remained virtually unchanged with decreases of less than one per cent in each state.

Amateur Flier Feared Lost On Atlantic Hop

DETROIT, (U)—Relatives of Davis D. Smith, 46 year old amateur aviator, believed today that he had perished on a hop across the Atlantic ocean in his rebuilt monoplane. The automobile factory foreman has been missing since he left the local airport June 29.

When Smith took off, his renovated plane was carrying a capacity load of 350 gallons of gasoline—enough to carry him 3000 miles. There has been no trace of him since.

4,000 FIGHTING FOREST FIRES

300 Blazes In California; Incendiarism Is Blamed For 5 Fires In Washington

SAN FRANCISCO, (U)—An army of more than 4000 men today fought forest fires in California, Oregon and Washington, as lightning, low humidity and high winds created a triple threat to national forests, valuable privately owned timberlands, and a score of towns in the path of the flames.

The Washington forest fire association reported five large fires in that state were the work of incendiaries who had taken advantage of naturally adverse conditions.

More than 300 forest fires burned in eight national forests in California.

One of the largest, at Red Cap Prairie, north of Eureka, was out of control. A hundred volunteers and 500 CCC enrollees fought to cut it off before it reached the dense Klamath forest, most of them started by lightning. Scores of dangerous fires burned northeast of the Sacramento valley, throwing a low smoke ceiling over the ranges of the Sierra Nevada.

Three fires caused heavy damage to industrial plants within a 10 mile radius of Ukiah.

Authorities investigated to determine if the fires were of incendiary origin. Among serious blazes was the Smith (Continued on Page 4)

NOTED CHAUFFEUR FOR PRINCE—Henry Ford piloted the Swedish Prince Bertil at a 60-mile clip, when the Prince visited Ford's Greenfield Village, Mich. Then the Prince took the car to a proving track and drove it at 85 miles an hour. Above, Ford explains to the Prince principles of his 1902 racing car.

MINING ENGINEER DIES IN 130 DEGREE HEAT OF MOJAVE DESERT

Companion Staggers To Safety Of Ranch, Bearing Tragic End Of Inspection Trip After Automobile Stalled Sunday Night On Edge Of Death Valley; Victim's Body Found

SAN BERNARDINO, (U)—Frank B. Wicks, 52 year old mining engineer, was found near collapse today after a trek through the 130 degree heat of the Mojave Desert that killed a companion 14 years younger.

The body of Herman E. Van Thijn, 38, also an engineer, was found on a scorching sand hill only a mile and a half from human habitation at Denning Springs, 81 miles south of Barstow.

The two started out Saturday to inspect a mining claim at Owl Hole Springs of the fringe of torrid Death Valley. Their auto stalled in the sand Sunday night and they set out afoot.

MRS. G. A. RICHARDSON DIED ON WEDNESDAY; RITES THURSDAY

Mrs. G. A. Richardson, a native of Amador County and for many years a resident of Placerville during which her husband was publisher of The Republican, passed away early Wednesday at Sacramento. She had not been well for several years.

The funeral services will be held at Sacramento on Thursday.

Mrs. Richardson was a native of Amador County and spent virtually all her life in Amador, El Dorado and Sacramento counties. She and her husband moved to Sacramento following the sale of the paper to W. S. Kirk.

Since moving to the capital city, Mr. Richardson had been engaged in the real estate business and otherwise occupied with the management of his own properties there, which included the Casa Del Rey apartments at 17th and Eye Streets, where they made their home.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Richardson is survived by one sister, Mrs. Webb Smith, and one brother, Walter Caldwell, both of Sacramento; and by several nephews and nieces, to one of whom, Ralph McNaughton, she is indebted for the above information.

Ward Brooks was a Wednesday caller from his Slate Mountain mine.

Guy E. Wentworth returned Tuesday evening from a visit to Tonopah, Nev.

The law, which also limits such duty-free importations to one a month, was signed by President Roosevelt June 25. A similar law is in effect in Canada.

ABOUT 7,800 ON POLLING LIST

Registration Estimates Show Increase Of Approximately 600 Over Previous Figure

A new high in the number of registrations of voters of the county will be set when the period of registration for the August primary election expires on Thursday night.

County Clerk Arthur J. Koletzke estimated Wednesday that registrations for the primary election will total about 7,800, which is a gain of approximately 600 over the previous highest total registration, and reflects the continuing gain of the county in population.

The time for registering for the August primary expires Thursday evening.

Those who voted at the last primary or general election and who still reside in the same precinct, are not required to register again as under permanent registration, their names are all ready of record.

Anyone who did not vote at the last primary or general election, and who has not since registered, will have to do so before the close of business Thursday to qualify in the primary election.

Those registered in the county, who have changed their place of residence since the last election, should notify the county clerk before the registration expires Thursday, so that their names may be changed from the precinct in which they resided formerly, to the precinct to which they have moved.

Druids Favor Museum Plan

Advisory Board Appoints Committee Of Three To Visit City August 5th

The advisory board of the Grand Lodge of Druids in California views the proposal to establish a pioneer museum in Placerville with favor and has named a committee of three to attend a meeting at the courthouse in Placerville, called for August 5 under chamber of commerce auspices.

This is the word brought home by Emmett D. Golden, a grand trustee of the order, who was at San Francisco Saturday to attend an advisory board meeting.

The advisory board named as its committee Noble Grand Arch Joseph A. Gigotto, Grand Secretary Edward H. Mossi, and Grand Trustee Golden.

The museum plan was presented at the recent Grand Grove meeting and was received with favor by the Druids, since it was proposed to erect the museum on the site where the first meeting in California was held, the location on which until recently the St. Francis hotel stood.

The Druid committee of three attending the August 5 meeting will report back to the advisory board on the action of the meeting and this will form the basis for such action as the Druids may take as an organization.

Dairy Cows Require Shade, Fresh Water During Hot Weather

By G. E. GORDON
Extension Specialist in Dairying

Dairy cows are able to adapt themselves quite readily to a wide variety of feed and weather conditions. Nevertheless, rapid changes in conditions have a definite effect upon their production. It is, therefore, good practice for dairymen to see to it that changes in feeding are made as gradually as possible, and it is also good practice to aid cows in meeting severe changes in weather conditions. Protection from adverse weather in the winter is generally recognized as being beneficial to dairy cows. Hot summer weather, however, oftentimes has a more severe effect upon production than winter weather. It is, therefore, desirable to provide shade and to maintain an adequate supply of fresh water at all times. The effect of adverse weather conditions is pointed out in "Feeds and Feeding" by F. B. Morrison as follows:

"Weather and Season of Year. The temperature of the air has even a more pronounced effect on the fat content of milk than the stage of lactation. The tendency is for cows of all breeds to give richer milk when the temperature falls, and poorer as it rises, at least up to 70 degrees F. The fat content may increase as much as 0.08 to 0.15 per cent for each drop of 10 degrees in temperature.

"Because of the effect of temperature, perhaps combined with the effect of humidity, the tendency is for cows to give richer milk in winter and poorer milk in summer. In any particular cow this effect may be modified by the usual rise in fat percentage which occurs during the latter part of lactation.

"If the weather is too hot for the comfort of the cows, it may cause a decided reduction in yield of milk, with an increase in the fat content and other changes in composition. California experiments show that such an effect is produced when cows are kept in an air temperature above 85 degrees F. without the cooling effect of a breeze for more than 48 hours. It was found that during very hot weather the temperature of the air in a field of green alfalfa was 10 degrees lower than in a dry, open corral, because of the cooling effect produced by the evaporation of water from the growing plants. Cows kept in this field were more comfortable during a hot spell than when confined to the dry corral, and their body temperature was appreciably lowered. This shows the importance of pasture for cows in hot weather. Shade should be provided in such pastures, if possible.

"Cooling cows during periods of very hot weather by covering them with light muslin cloths kept moist to cause cooling by evaporation, overcame the depressing effect of the heat in a recent Georgia test, with no bad effect on health.

"High humidity of the air may cause a drop in milk yield, high-producing cows being affected more than low producers. It also apparently decreases the fat content of milk.

"Exposure to cold rains or other severe weather may cause a serious shrinkage in milk flow and a decrease in the fat content."

HERO OF 30-YEAR-OLD KIDNAPING NOW ON HONEYMOON

CLEVELAND, (UP)—Three decades ago, Norman A. Shattuck, Cleveland policeman, made headlines by solving the Billy Whitla kidnaping case. Now, at 81, he is on his second honeymoon. His bride is Mrs. Olive Crosby, 68.

In March, 1909, 4-year-old Billy Whitla was abducted as he left school in Sharon, Pa., brought to Cleveland and hidden in a hotel here. Shattuck, receiving a tip that the kidnapers were in a saloon, surprised and captured them as they planned collection of $10,000 ransom. The case made Shattuck famous.

"Cracking Knuckles" Cost Owner $28

TULSA, Okla., (UP)—C. D. McCoy told police he was more than surprised when a youth accosted him on the street and inquired:

"Would you like to hear my knuckles crack?"

"I wasn't particularly interested in hearing his knuckles crack, and told him so," McCoy said. "But I heard 'em anyway. He smacked his fist into the side of my jaw and knocked me down."

The assailant, who said he was an amateur fighter, was fined $28 and costs.

11 Killed, 9 Injured In Dynamite Blast

BALTIMORE, (UP)—Eleven men were killed and nine injured today when 450 pounds of dynamite exploded in a chamber hewn out of solid rock in a water tunnel 65 feet underground.

The men, employed on a Public Works Administration project, literally were blown to bits when the dynamite accidentally was detonated. All were negroes. Three of the nine injured were in a critical condition.

Octogenarian Feels Too Good; It Doesn't Pay

CINCINNATI, O., (UP)—Landon Chambers, 82, of suburban Norwood, is convinced it doesn't pay to feel too good.

Chambers felt the need for some strenuous exercise and he sought to get it by climbing an apple tree in his back yard. Half-way up the tree, Chambers slipped and fell to the ground. He was taken to a hospital suffering a broken nose and numerous minor injuries.

Gasoline Taxes More Than General Levies

WASHINGTON, (UP)—States collected more revenue in gasoline taxes in the fiscal year than they did in income and real estate levies combined, according to the American Petroleum Institute.

The institute said state gasoline taxes totaled $704,920,691; real estate taxes, $219,242,320; and general property taxes, $360,518,753.

STATE FAIR TICKET SALES OPEN AUGUST 1

Script is a book of 10 admissions, priced at $2.50, a sum half that of 10 regular fifty-cent admissions.

The board announced that the sale will be limited to $75,000 and that it will end at midnight the first day of the fair, September 2.

Script will be sold by Future Farmers of America, 4-H Clubs, Chambers of Commerce and business houses in virtually all cities of the state.

Dates of the fair this year are September 2 through 11.

Girl Routs Robbers In Father's Store

YOUNGSTOWN, O., (UP)—The daughter of Robert G. King, a grocery store manager, honked her automobile horn when she saw her father being held up in his store and saved his day's receipts from bandits.

King told police that he was leaving his store when three men rushed him and knocked him down.

His daughter, waiting for him outside in her car, saw the assault and pressed on the car's horn. The bandits fled.

Beetle Tracks Go Back 200 Million Years

WASHINGTON, (UP)—Beetle tracks of 200,000,000 years ago, found in the logs of Arizona's petrified forest, are under the scrutiny of the Smithsonian Institution.

The tracks, discovered by M. V. Walker, of the National Parks Service, are described as "peculiar ridges and shallow channels," some completely encircling massive trunks.

The beetles seemingly selected only one type of fossil tree for destruction. These trees are now extinct, but are closely related to the Norfolk Island pine, a giant pine found only on one island in the Indian Ocean.

Absent-Minded Driver Forgets Wife

PORTERVILLE, (UP)—S. H. Strickland, local gasoline station proprietor, accompanied by Mrs. Strickland, was driving home from a day at Pismo Beach. When he was about 100 miles from home, he got out to get a bottle of soda pop.

His wife also stepped out, without his noticing it. The bottle of pop finished, he returned to the car and drove home without discovering that his wife was not in the car.

In the meantime she had managed to hitch-hike part way home until he found her at 4 o'clock in the morning.

BACHELOR ATTORNEY HOST TO 300 GUESTS WEEKLY FOR TEN YEARS

TAMPA, Fla., (UP)—Joseph F. Miyares, lawyer and self-styled "old bachelor," has been host to more than 200,000 guests during the last 10 years at his home, Villa del Rio, and most of his visitors have been children of high school age.

The Tampa attorney said "it's simply a hobby and the pleasure is all mine," as he explained that reputable organizations, high school fraternities and class parties were welcome to use his home at any time for "good, clean, wholesome fun."

An average of 300 guests a week during the past 10 years have taken advantage of Miyares' "hobby," danced at his home, used his 50-foot swimming pool and roamed the two acres of gardens which surround his home.

The parties given at his home always are well chaperoned, Miyares said, "but on some counts they must do as I say."

Grande.

He was taken ill at a card party at Georgetown about three weeks ago and was brought to Placerville for treatment, later being taken to San Jose, where he was admitted at O'Connor Sanitarium.

His physicians found it necessary to perform two operations to correct his affliction and although the first was completed satisfactorily, Mr. Ward was unable to survive the second operation and passed away early Tuesday morning.

He will be remembered with high regard by a large number of life-long friends in the Georgetown district, and by his co-workers at Pino Grande, as well as by friends throughout the county who admired him for his many excellent qualities and with whom we join in an expression of sympathy to those bereaved.

Mr. Ward is survived by his wife, Mrs. Kate Ward, of Campbell, Santa Clara County; by the daughter, Mrs. Corker, and the son Frank Ward; and by two brothers and three sisters, who are: Robert Ward, of Stateline; Ollie Ward, of Reno; Mrs. Ida Bailey, of Placerville; Mrs. Cora Sweetland, of Carson City; and Mrs. Grace Lemon, of Reno.

Several grandchildren, nieces and nephews also survive him.

Ella Dore Goodrich Is Called To Rest

Mrs. Ella Dore Goodrich, of Diamond Springs, who recently suffered a paralytic stroke, passed away Tuesday night at her home.

She was born May 7, 1859 and came to California 49 years ago and to this county about ten years later. The body is in the care of the Dillinger mortuary.

Owing to other illness in the household, we were not able to learn today the particulars of Mrs. Goodrich's long life.

NEW YORK LEGISLATOR ENDS OWN LIFE IN TAXICAB QUIZ

NEW YORK (U)—State Senator Julius Berg shot and killed himself today in his law office after his wife had pleaded all night to tell District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey what he knew about the taxi-cab rackets.

Berg was under subpoena to testify in the taxi-cab investigation, in which one legislator already has been indicted. He told his wife there was "too much involved" for him to face investigation. When she stepped out of the office to get a drink of water, he took a pistol from his desk and shot himself.

PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD MEETS THURSDAY AT SANTA BARBARA

SANTA BARBARA (U)—A report on the gains accomplished by the Presbyterian church in the past year will be made at the opening of the annual Presbyterian synod of California here tomorrow night.

The report will be made in the nature of a pastoral survey by the retiring moderator, the Rev. Prof. Edward Arthur Wicher of San Anselmo. After reading the report, the Rev. Wicher will turn over the session to his successor who will be selected to administer the affairs of the church in California and Nevada for the next year.

Early arrivals today indicated more than 700 clergymen and laymen will attend the synod which will last one week.

SPEEDS TRIAL

PHILADELPHIA (U)—Leon G. Hellock, a truck driver, was having difficulty answering an attorney's questions. He finally turned to the judge and said: "If a person shakes hands with me I find I can talk to him better." The judge and the truck driver shook hands, and the trial progressed nicely.
